For over 100 years rollerboards have played a pivotal role in education, and become a familiar feature in most classrooms and lecture theatres.

The sturdy and robust construction has become synonymous with reliability, whilst the revolving design offers versatility and the ability to present different information on each section. For this reason, rollerboards continue to be a core requirement for modern day teaching environments.

Types of rollerboards:

- Mobile
  Ideal for small classrooms/teaching environments. The sturdy construction and mobile castors make it easy to move the rollerboard from room to room or within a room as required.

- Wall Mounted
  The perfect solution for smaller spaces or where floor space is limited. The information on display is at a higher height than the mobile version and therefore more easily visible.

- Floor Standing (fixed to wall)
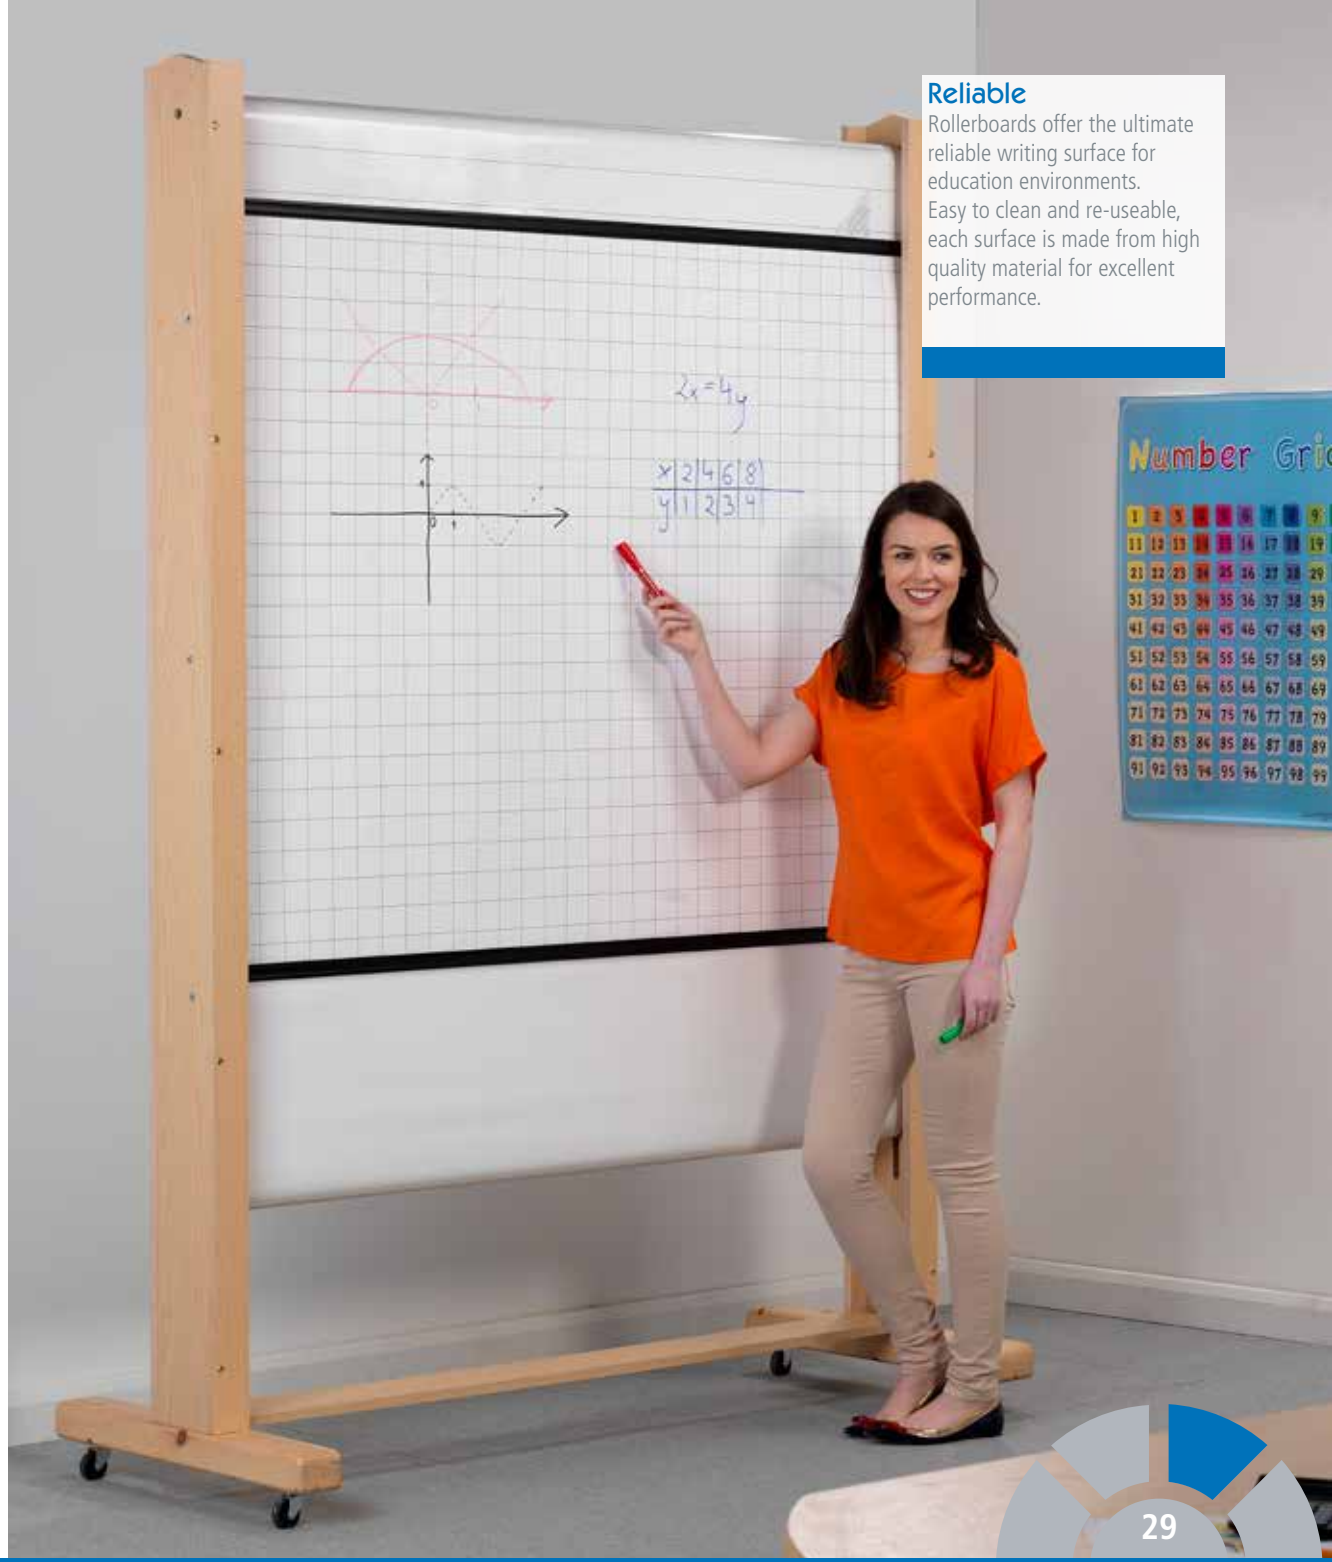
  Suitable for larger classrooms/teaching environments, the floor standing (wall fixed) rollerboard has large writing surfaces and is easily visible within a classroom, lecture theatre or similar. Each board has either 3 or 4 writing surface sections, depending on the size of the board.

For all of the above, plain white writing sections will be supplied as standard, however you can choose from the following types:
50mm square, 75mm lines, music staves or feint grid (additional charge will apply).

Writing sections can easily be replaced as required. Please see page 30 for further information.



Reliable

Rollerboards offer the ultimate reliable writing surface for education environments.
Easy to clean and re-useable, each surface is made from high quality material for excellent performance.

Premium

SmartShield noticeboards are contemporary and stylish in design with a smooth, premium frame finish.
Perfect for displaying information and notices in a modern and professional manner.

Fire Retardant Noticeboards

The consequence of fire spread within circulation and escape routes presents a high risk to the building occupants. Materials and items on the walls of these areas should not propagate or accelerate a fire, therefore allowing the occupants the opportunity to exit safely. It is recommended that noticeboards used in these areas should be fire retardant.

FlameShield noticeboards are manufactured in the UK by Spaceright Europe Ltd.

The FlameShield noticeboard core and bonded textile are fire retardant as a composite, meeting Class 0 when assessed to BS 476 Parts 6 and 7 and comply with Class B-s1, d0 when tested to BS-EN13501-1: 2002. The clear plastic doors used in tamperproof FlameShield noticeboards are tested separately, and conform to Class 1Y when assessed to BS 476 part 7.

FlameShield noticeboards are engineered to last and designed to meet the required standards, as a result you will find they are heavier, robust and more dense than a standard noticeboard.

Building owners may need to regularly review the fire risks in their premises to comply with their national regulations. Part of that review should consider the type and extent of noticeboard installed, the management of its use, the location of the noticeboard with respect to escape routes, and the other fire safety precautions within the building. Documents related to fire safety risk assessments can be found at:
https:www.gov.uk/government/collections/fire-safety-law-and-guidance-documents-for-business for example.

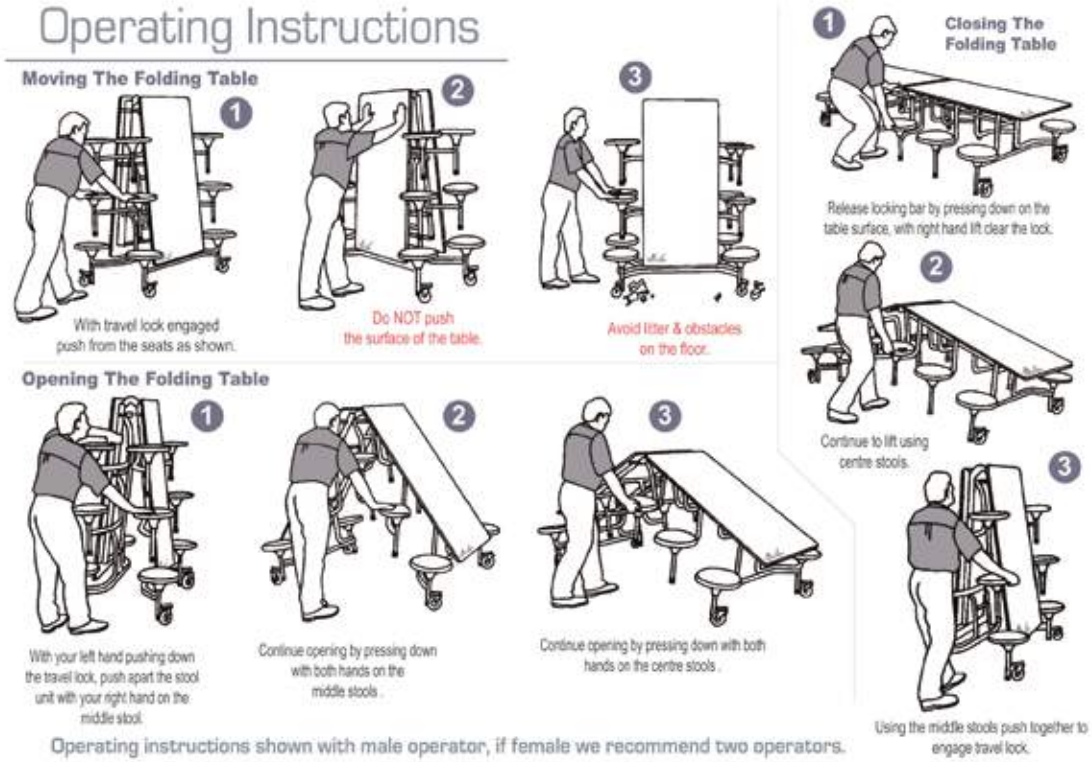
Required Maintenance

To keep your tables operating to the optimum level, they must be checked on an ongoing basis as follows:

- Regularly inspect table operation for smoothness and general stability.
- Clean table tops according to current food service hygiene practices after each use. Exterior components of tables should be inspected for food deposits and cleaned as required. The underside of the tables should be inspected for chewing gum and other food deposits.
- Periodically you should lubricate tables with a food grade silicon spray, which is required to pivot joints. We recommend lubrication every six months or more often if indicated by stiff operation or noise.

CAUTION:- Excessive use of water during cleaning may cause corrosion



Operating instructions shown with male operator, if female we recommend two operators.
